

Sent: Friday, May 02, 2014 4:28 PM

Subject: RE: Washington State - Notice of Preproposal Statement of Inquiry Concerning Crowdfunding Rules

I would like to make some suggestions for these PPM's. We were claimed to be accredited, we have no experience in investing, we just listened to the person and he said, we were accredited. I think an accredited person should have credentials. I think the investor should be left with money in case of emergencies. We were left with no liquid money, the person invested all our money stating we were in no need of liquid money, knowing full well we were wanting to retire. He did not inquire about how much money we had lost with him, he assumed we had made lots, we lost thousands. We are unable to get our money, some in Dec 2014 and 2 more contracts in Dec 2015. We wish we could from under it now, this was my husbands inheritance. One of the PPM's went big and the person we are dealing with is now very well off and of course we did not see anything. Hope this helps give some thoughts to think about on how to safeguard an investor.

Thank you, Barbara Bolinger