This form is already being used. Do we now need to give borrowers two?? Washington State's and the one required by lender's.called Mortgage Broker fee Discloser?? How does this new form differ? Other than create more paper to explain and read for borrower. Can we just use the Mortgage Broker Fee Discloser instead? Is this form going to replace another discloser? like the ARM booklet or charm. Do you want this to go on top of the GFE and TIL? Are we required to number the disclosers, and put in certain order when sent or handed to borrower? Or explained? Thank YOU For your time, Denise
