DIVISION MOVES RULES

The Division has moved its rules from Title 419 of the Washington Administrative Code (WAC) to Title 208 of the WAC, effective June 1, 1996. The rules themselves have not changed at all, other than their numbering.

A copy of the DCU rules with their new numbers is enclosed. A conversion chart is also enclosed for your convenience. After June 1, the Division's rules should be referred to by their Title 208 section numbers.

DCU has reserved the 400s in Title 208 for its rules. As a result, all new credit union rules will be placed in WAC Chapters 208-400 through 208-499.

The rules move is part of the consolidation of DFI's rules into a single Title of the WAC. DFI's agency-wide rules, on such matters as public records and adjudicative proceedings, will also be moved into Title 208 of the WAC.

You will notice that there are fewer DCU rules after the move. That is because the rules that deal strictly with savings and loan associations have not been moved over with DCU's rules into Title 208.

Questions or comments on the rules move should be directed to Parker Cann, Assistant Director, at (360) 902-8778.
